Red Deer Stag stalking information sheet

If anything, symbolises Scotland as much as the Grouse it is our native Red Deer. Ranging over the high tops of Scotland's most beautiful mountains for much of the year, they are prized by people who relish the challenge of hunting Scotland's largest and most powerful mammal. Red deer stalking in Scotland is truly one of the most magical experiences that hunting in the UK can offer and we have some stunning estates to introduce you to where you will soak up the full ambiance of a day's deer stalking in Scotland.

Mainly stalked in open areas in the highlands our deer are wild and free range and a reasonable level a physical fitness is required.

Located 90 minutes north west of Edinburgh the scenery is stunning and guests will be well rewarded for their efforts.
